

LSB Industries, Inc. Provides Update on Its El Dorado, Arkansas Facility

July 26, 2016

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jul. 26, 2016-- LSB Industries, Inc. (NYSE:LXU) ("LSB" or the "Company") today announced that, due to an intense lightning storm, its El Dorado, Arkansas facility suffered a complete power outage on July 14, 2016, which caused production to be halted. Subsequent restart activities indicated that normal operating parameters had been affected from the outage and repairs were required. Adjustments to El Dorado's ammonia plant synthesis loop are currently being made and the Company expects to restore ammonia production at nameplate capacity during the first week of August 2016.

In addition, LSB is undertaking necessary warranty repairs and modifications on its nitric acid plant at El Dorado during the seasonally slow period. The modifications and repairs on heat exchangers and NOX abatement systems are being done to increase efficiency and extend service life. The Company expects to complete the activities at the nitric acid plant in late August. Customer shipments are not expected to be interrupted as the facility has a secondary nitric acid plant and the Pryor, Cherokee and Baytown facilities are able to provide required shipments to customers if necessary.
